In accordance with the DC Human Rights Act of 1997, as amended, D.C. Official Code section 2-1401.01 et seq., (Act) the District of Columbia does not discriminate. Section 2-1402.31 (a) prohibits acts performed wholly or partially for discriminatory reason: To deny, directly or indirectly, any person the full and equal employment of the goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, and accommodations of any place of public accommodations.

Agency Notice of Non-Discrimination

The DC Office on Aging does not discriminate on the basis of actual or perceived: race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, marital status, personal appearance, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, familial status, family responsibilities, matriculation, political affiliation, genetic information, disability, source of income and place of residence or business. Sexual harassment is a form of sex discrimination which is prohibited by the Act. In addition, harassment based on any of the above protected categories is prohibited by the Act. Discrimination in violation of the act will not be tolerated. Violators will be subjected to disciplinary action.

Adrian M. Fenty, Mayor

The government of the District of Columbia must – and will – manage essential services in a continually more efficient and responsive manner, employing high-quality professionals and implementing smart policies that reflect the great potential our city possesses. Above all, starting with the Mayor, government will be held accountable to its stakeholders: The citizens of the District of Columbia.

Clarence Brown, Ph.D.

“Meeting the Needs of the District’s Elderly”

MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of the District of Columbia Office on Aging is to advocate, plan, implement, and monitor programs in health, education, employment, and social services which promotes longevity, independence, dignity, and choice for our senior citizens.

DC Office on Aging

OVERVIEW

The Office on Aging is the District of Columbia's Agency on Aging that oversees direct services to persons 60 and older through a Senior Service Network. Within the Senior Service Network are seven community-based agencies, funded by the Office on Aging, to provide nutritious and tasty meals, social and recreational activities, as well as information on staying well. However, seniors are required to become registered participants in order to use the services. In-house, the Office on Aging operates two direct services programs: the Senior Employment and Training Program and the Information and Assistance Unit. The Office on Aging also oversees two nursing homes within the District. Other services provided through the community agencies include: Adult Day Care; Adult Education; Emergency Shelter; Health Insurance Counseling; In-Home Relief; Legal Services; and Transportation.

WELLNESS PROGRAMS

WELLNESS PROGRAMS

Each of these programs includes a health education component covering topics such as the safe use of medication, blood pressure screening, and the benefits of exercise. Classes are conducted by appropriately trained and certified instructors and encourage participants to exercise at their own fitness level.
